GUIDELINES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Papers submitted to the Polish Journal of Applied Psychology are to be in English only with the exception of the abstract which should be prepared in both English and Polish. Send an e-mail copy of your submission to Marta Kochan-Wójcik PhD: m.kochan-wojcik@psychologia.uni.wroc.pl

Maximum article length is to be 25 typed pages (including references, footnotes, figures and figures captions, and tables as well as their caption). References should not exceed six typed pages. Typescripts should be Times New Roman and standard font size 12, double-spaced throughout, with 1.5–4 cm margins left and right. The e-mailed copy should be 1800 ASCII characters per computer page.

Papers should include an abstract (maximum 115 words) in both English and Polish, along with key words, typed text, references, footnotes, figures and tables (on separate pages in that order). Indicate in a separate footnote the address to which requests for reprints should be sent. Tables are to be treated as self-contained: that is, do not repeat in the text data presented in the tables. Do not draw vertical lines in tables. Keep the number of tables and figures to a minimum. Indicate their placement in the text.

For referencing, follow the APA Style sheet. Examples of the most commonly used types of citations are given here:

Book: one, two, or more authors:

Smith, P.B., & Bond, M.H. (1998). Social psychology across culture. Hemel Hemstead, UK: Prentice-Hall.

Article in scholarly journal:

Mączyński, J. (2001). The cultural impact on the leadership style of Polish managers. Polish Journal of Applied Psychology, 1 (1), 107–132.

Chapter (or article) in a book:

Sashkin, M. (1998). The visionary leader. In: J.A. Conger & R.A. Kamungo (Eds.). Charismatic leadership: The elusive factor in organizational effectiveness. San Francisco: JoseyBass, 122–160.

The titles of publications in languages other than English should be given in English in square brackets after the title of the original:

Wojciszke, B. (2002). Człowiek wśród ludzi. [A man among men]. Warszawa: Wydawnictwo Naukowe „Scholar”

THERE ARE TWO DEADLINES FOR SUBMITTING ARTICLES TO PRINT IN THE POLISH JOURNAL OF APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY:

- 30TH OF JANUARY
- 31ST OF MAY

Authors may indicate the names of three persons, who due to issues contained in the article may be its potential reviewers.

AIMS AND SCOPE

The Polish Journal of Applied Psychology is primarily devoted to original investigations that contribute new knowledge and understanding to all fields of applied psychology. PJAP is mainly interested in publishing empirical articles, where quantitative as well as qualitative analyses of data enhance our understanding of individuals, groups or various social systems and have practical implications within particular contexts. Conceptual or theoretical papers may be accepted if they bring a special contribution into the field for application.
